Angela completed a Bachelor of Arts at Sydney University in 1979 and a Bachelor of Laws (Hons) at UTS in 1996, was admitted to the Bar in 1996 and since 2000 has practised extensively in Valuation, Planning, Environmental and Property Law in all jurisdictions of the Land and Environment Court. She advises and appears regularly for councils, developers, government departments, community groups and individuals in a range of administrative and environmental matters, civil enforcement proceedings, in valuation and land acquisition cases and environmental criminal prosecutions.

She also appears in the Commercial and Equity Divisions of the Supreme Court, in the Federal Court and District Court and in criminal matters in the Local Court. She has represented clients in numerous mediations, presents seminars and training exercises in local government, planning and environmental law and legal practice and has been the master of ceremonies at various legal events including in 2017 - UTS Law's 40th Anniversary celebration with Chancellor Catherine Livingstone, Toongabbie Legal Centre's 10th Anniversary dinner with patron and President of the Court of Appeal, Justice Margaret Beazley and Attorney General the Hon Mark Speakman and the City of Sydney Law Society's 25th annual dinner again with Attorney General Mark Speakman. In 2011 she was Ms Junior at the NSW Bench and Bar Dinner.

Angela has served on the NSW Bar Council between 2004 - 2006, been a member of two of Bar Council's Professional Conduct Committees, deputy Chair of the Equal Opportunity Committee and has acted as a mentor for junior and aspiring female barristers. She has also served on the Environmental Planning and Law Association Committee and served on the Executive of Martin Place Chambers.

Since 2010 she has been a director of the Belvoir Street Theatre Board (Company A) and in 2017 was made Chair. She was previously a newsreader with ABC Television News in Sydney from 1988 until 2000 with weekend bulletins broadcast nationally.
